About Fenchurch Law

Fenchurch Law is an award-winning international law firm dedicated to serving the needs of policyholders. We focus exclusively on representing policyholders in insurance coverage disputes, specialising in high value and complex claims.

Since the firm was founded in 2010, becoming the first firm in the UK to specialise in this way, our purpose has been to help level the playing field between policyholders and their insurers. Our Singapore office, located in the heart of the City's business district, is being launched to extend that purpose by supporting policyholders and brokers across the wider Asia-Pacific region, providing first-class advice and representation on high-value, complex, commercial insurance disputes, just as we have done in the London Market since 2010.

Specialist expertise

With particular expertise in Construction, Property, Financial, Professional and Marine risks, we focus exclusively on coverage disputes, policy wording advice, and defending claims made against uninsured policyholders while we challenge their insurers.
